Brad Sherman continues to dominate endorsements from labor in his re-election campaign in California Congressional District 30.

Today Sherman announced that Ironworkers Union, Local 433, representing Ironworkers across the Los Angeles region, has endorsed him for Congress.

Tom Moxley, Business Agent for the Ironworkers Local 433 stated,

"Brad Sherman is a true friend of California's working men and women. Not only does he have a sterling lifetime 97% voting record in support of labor, but Congressman Sherman is a powerful and effective leader on critical issues, like opposing unfair trade deals that ship American jobs overseas and protecting the rights of American workers to organize. Ironworkers wholeheartedly endorse Brad Sherman."

"Ironworkers build America," stated Brad Sherman. "They construct the skyscrapers and erect the bridges upon which our economy rests. I am extremely proud to be supported by the Ironworkers and the hard-working, highly-skilled and vital workers they represent."

Previously, Sherman has announced endorsements from four other major unions: Joint Council of Teamsters, District 42; International Association of Machinists, District Lodge 725; International Union of Painters and Allied Trades, District Council 36 and the California Association of Professional Employees.
